ITALIAN GOV'T HANGS IN BALANCE

Its Peace Delegates Will Ask to Make Separate Pact With Austrians if Paris Negotiations Make Revolt Possible at Home.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, April 16.—Premier Orlando, in discussing the Adriatic claims with the president, told the latter that the situation in Italy is such that the government would be overturned unless it gets several questions adjusted.

The Italians are standing firm on the pact of London and are trying to keep the pledges made.

It is reported that the Italians will ask permission to retire from the conference and make their own peace with Austria if the Allies and the associated powers vote down the demand for Fiume. However, it is explained that this action would be taken with the greatest reluctance.

Adriatic a Major Problem.

The Adriatic situation is rapidly becoming as complicated as the French Rhine claims. Every effort at settlement has met with failure so far. It is understood that the Italians are greatly worked up over the opposition to their claims. The campaign waged by Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister, has had the strong results in solidifying the Italians against any compromise on the question of Fiume. The Italian delegates question the reports made by American experts, who took the position that Fiume should be given to Yugoslavia because of the preponderance of Slavic population in that port.

It is claimed by the Italians that the population of Fiume has always been overwhelmingly Italian. It is understood that Premier Orlando explained to President Wilson that Italy would not agree to any disposition of the question in dispute. The appeal has been lodged with President Wilson.

Italy's Opposition Absolute.

The Italian position, as outlined by the International News Service, is as follows:

Italy cannot agree that there is the slightest justice in the claims of the Jugos-Slavs.

Should the Allies and the Powers vote down the Italian plan, Italy would reluctantly be compelled to request permission to withdraw her force.

Arrangements are being contemplated for the meeting with the German delegates at Versailles on or about April 25. The German envoys will be given an opportunity of communicating freely with their home government. Should they insist on returning to the assembly is not definitely known.

Week's Consideration for Germans.

It is believed that as soon as the treaty is explained to the Germans, they will be given a week to consider it, but they must sign without any argument or else refuse. The collapse of the German naval base at Heligoland has been agreed upon by the big four. This decision was reached following the submission of a report by Allied naval experts, including Admiral Benson.

ARRANGE FOR MEMORIAL SERVICE

Soldiers and Sailors to Attend High School Service April 27 Meet at Armory.

In recognition of the proclamation issued by Governor Smith, that April 27th be set aside as a memorial in honor of the soldiers and sailors who gave their lives in the war, the committee in charge of the local memorial service program to be given in the High School Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, April 27th, met last night and heard reports of sub-committees, acted upon them and adjourned indefinitely.

subject to the call of the chairman. It was decided last night that the soldiers and sailors who will attend the services will meet at the armory on that afternoon in uniform at 7:15 sharp. The sailors will be in charge of Lieutenant James F. Loughran and Lieutenant James F. Loughran and Lieutenant James F. Loughran.

The Mendelssohn Club have offered their services for the musical program and it was with pleasure that the committee accepted the offer to furnish the singing. The club has not fully completed their program but it will be announced at an early date.

The memorial service will commence at 4 o'clock promptly and all holders of reserve seats are to be seated by 7:15 or their seats will be withdrawn. The tickets will be placed in charge of City Clerk Foreman for distribution and the manner in which they will be disposed of will be announced in ample time for the public.

U. S. BOOSTING HOME OWNING

The Kingston Co-operative Savings and Loan Association is in receipt of a series of posters issued by the United States Department of Labor, in which the value of loan associations is fully recognized by the government.

Among the catch-lines on the posters, designed to attract the attention of the man of moderate income and of small savings, and to further the government's campaign of "home owning," are the following:

"Own a home for your children's sake."

"A man can borrow money on what he puts into a home; he can't on what he pays out for rent."

"Save your money by building a home."

"During the war it was patriotic not to build; now we can best show our patriotism by building."

"In addition to these injunctions of a general nature, the department specifically urges the use of the Savings and Loan Associations as a means to the building. It says: 'Add to the nation's wealth and your own resources by building a home. The officers of the association will advise you how to finance it.'"

Premier Lloyd-George Announces Treaty Will be Ready For Germans by End of Next Week--League a Great Experiment--Sees Bolshevism on Wane-- Indemnities Question Difficult.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, April 16.—The peace conference has arrived at a complete understanding and by the end of next week the treaty will be presented to Germany, said Premier Lloyd George in a speech today.

London, April 16.—Premier Lloyd George, addressing the House of Commons this afternoon, defended his course at the peace conference. We were justified in taking time for the settlement of the questions involved and correcting all blunders, he said.

Aware of World's Impatience.

The premier declared that he was fully aware of the impatience throughout the world regarding peace. But the indicated criticism was not forthcoming upon his return, the premier added.

The indemnities question is difficult and not one that can be settled by telegraph, said Mr. Lloyd George. The difficulty in finding a solution to the Russian problem arose mainly from the fact that there was no control of the government representing the whole country, the premier pointed out. The question of recognizing Russia had never been proposed, he said.

He referred to a League of Nations as a great experiment, adding: "A League might have precipitated a universal war, which might be near or distant."

The premier was cheered when he said the League of Nations was planned to correct mistakes.

Does Not Despair of Russia.

Another problem was to arrest Bolshevism, therefore supplying countries bordering Bolshevik territory with means of resisting such invasion, continued the premier. "I do not despair of the situation in Russia. There are promising factors. Reliable information shows that while the Bolshevik forces are growing, Bolshevism itself is rapidly waning."

There are still perils. The Balkans stirred all of Europe and we must see to it that no unrest is created by the peace settlement, declared the speaker. Mr. Lloyd George deprecated attempts to sow dissensions. It is untrue that the United States and Europe are at variance. They unanimously decided not to publish the terms before they were discussed. I would rather have a good peace than a good press.

Russ Intervention Foolish.

Referring further to Russia, the premier said: "I would rather leave Russia to the Bolsheviks until we see a way out than to see Great Britain in bankruptcy. It would be easy to invade but difficult to conquer. This house would be surprised to learn the number of men necessary for intervention. It would be the greatest act of stupidity."

Rest Is Denied to World.

We are faced with a complete break up of three ancient empires—Russian, Turkey and Austria, said the premier.

"Ten new states have been born and the boundaries of 14 have been recast. Every continent has been affected. The world would like a rest but the journey is not ended."

No Advances Made by Lenin.

Questioned by the Rt. Hon. John R. Clynes, labor member from Manchester, the prime minister said that the conference had not been approached by the Central government or Russia. If President Wilson accepted any such propositions, he did not bring them to the attention of the peace conference, said the premier. If the president had attached any value to them he naturally would have done so.

Referring to the indemnity demands, the premier denied that he was trying to get out of his election pledges. "Every pledge given has been incorporated in the demands put forward by the Allies," he declared. "We want peace to be just but not vindictive and it must be stern."

Wilson's Name Brings Applause.

The premier declared that any idea that America and Europe are at variance is untrue. No one could have treated any more sympathetically the popular questions than President Wilson, said Lloyd George.

The mention of the president's name brought applause from the listeners.

Lloyd George added: "We never forget that France is suffering from the horrors through which she has passed."

While the premier was on the subject of government pledges one of the members interrupted. Lloyd George assumed his speech and stated that he would return to Paris.

The country, which kept Europe armed for forty years will have an army just adequate for police duty.

SPADE AND ENERGY WORK WONDERS

Home Gardeners Will Find Proper Soil Preparation Big Factor in Success, Say Veterans.

"Spade, brother, spade with care," is a good slogan for home gardeners, say veterans in gardening who have found proper soil preparation a big factor in successful vegetable growing; and proper soil preparation means good plowing or spading, and not a mere scratching of the surface. It improves physical properties, kills weeds, promotes early crops by enabling the soil to warm quickly, tends toward conserving moisture, and releases plant food.

The best tool for preparing the garden soil is a substantial spade, handled with energy, say the gardeners at the New York State College of Agriculture. Spading in both fall and spring is recommended on very heavy soils, especially if a green crop can be turned under in the fall. By spading in the fall the soil particles and insect larvae are exposed to the action of frost; this improves the soil texture and decreases insect troubles.

Banish, Brickbats.

The careful gardener, of course, will remove all stones, bricks, tin cans and other material that will not quickly decay. Brush also that has been used for trellising pea vines, or poles used at bean planting time, will be removed before the garden is spaded.

Sifted coal ashes or lime applied to heavy soils tend to loosen them; the ashes or lime make them easier to handle and cultivate and increase the capacity for holding moisture. Plant refuse or decaying vegetation has a similar effect.

Immediately following the spring spading, the good gardener will see that the surface soil is pulverized. This breaks up the clods, levels the garden and establishes a mulch. On a large garden this is done with harrows and drags, and on a small garden with rakes and hoes. The mulch will dry up the surface of the soil and prevent the evaporation of the soil moisture from beneath. The raking and stirring of the soil will be continued until planting time, but will not be done when the soil is wet.

Exhibit of Quaint Quilts.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Roundout Presbyterian Church are arranging for a unique exhibit of quilts, old and new, at their "Costume Tea" on April 23rd. These will include a quilt of old English chintz brought from England nearly two hundred years ago, an "Old Fellow" quilt, also of great age, a quilt made in school by a little girl of ten about seventy years ago when the schools of Roundout were private schools, and a quilt pieced by one of our most prominent business men. A great curiosity is the "Homestead" pattern, consisting of blocks forming little houses clustered around a big central block representing a country church with its high steeple and a row of houses. This is from the collection of Mrs. Mary Smith of Springtown. The exhibit will be open April 23rd from 3 to 5 and from 7 to 9. Light refreshments will be served and a silver offering received.

PEACE CONFERENCE UNDERSTANDING and just enough of a navy to protect commerce, said the premier in conclusion. "With difficulty she could gather 80,000 men to preserve order."

"If Bolshevism attacks the Allies it is our business to help," continued the premier. "We are supplying Rumania with equipment. Bolshevism may menace us or not, but if it does or does not we are ready for any attempt to overrun Europe."

In referring again to Russia, the premier said that he believed intervention would be a sure road to Bolshevism in Great Britain. He defended the anti-Bolshevik governments headed by Koltschek in Russia, because they represent peaceful people.

"The activity helped to maintain the blockade," said the prime minister. "Germany could not say that they would be exceedingly obliged then to let the Bolsheviks overpower their opponents."

AMERICA'S IMMORTALS

WILLIS P. SNYDER,

Private, Company D, 150th M. G. B.

Private Snyder won the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous bravery in action near Reims, France, July 15, 1918. After all the other members of his detachment had become casualties while defending a position in front of an infantry company, Private Snyder continued to operate a machine gun alone against an attacking party of Prussian Guards, and succeeded in driving them off. He then returned to our lines, attempting to carry back his wounded comrades with him, until he was himself wounded. Private Snyder's home is with his mother, Mrs. Kate Snyder, 1237 Cotton street, Reading, Pa.

During the war Snyder was one of the bravest of the brave, and his name is now a household word in every home.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 16, 1919

General March promises that our troops will be withdrawn from the Archangel region by July 1—which means, presumably, that it is necessary to wait for the "hey seas" to open.

The Victory Loan campaign fittingly began on the 15th of April, the first month in which our so-called "Civil War" ended and our wars with Spain and Germany began.

These hardy persons who want Vice-Admiral Sims nominated for president have overlooked the fact that the Constitution bars him because he happened to be born in Canada, a foreign land.

A Detroit landlord is putting $600,000 into an apartment house to be rented only to families with children—a needed benefaction in these out-of-joint times of no-children-allowed apartments.

Three of the largest distillery corporations evidently regard the "dry" amendment as no joke, for they have applied for amended charters authorizing them to engage in "general food production."

The Germans are confidently expected to reach Paris in a few days, reads an announcement. But what a different entry into the French capital it will be from that they looked forward to for four years.

It is gloomily predicted that war taxes and high prices may convert many garages into chicken houses. Well, there are not enough chicken houses and there were more automobiles before the war than the people who owed for them could afford.

That "bumper crops will be reported in New York state is a certainty if Tammany can only get control of the agricultural department. Surely if there is one bureau in the state where Tammany should shine it should be in the administration of the affairs of the farmer. Figuratively speaking the Democratic organization knows the needs of the farmer of the soil about as well as it knows the needs of the South Sea Islands. Still, Tammany wants to get the agricultural department in its clutches so that it may be able to lend out "first aid to the farmers."

The Germans persistently seek to convey the impression that they accepted the president's general peace propositions and laid down their arms. The peace suggestions in 14 points were published in January of last year. The Germans began their greatest drive in the following March, and in November they surrendered to Foch because they knew they were hopelessly beaten and wanted to save their country from invasion, precisely as Hindenburg indicated in a letter to Chancellor Prince Max. They would have no right to complain even if the nations sitting at Paris should pardon every one of the fourteen points.

NOT THE QUESTION

Correspondents of "The" sympathize, kept on returning to the papers to show that the great idea of past generations were children. They seem to forget that fashion change and that it would be useless for example to attempt to teach them about and secondarily to change their production of money was very overcast "beaten" down the War for Freedom. A correspondent of the Philadelphia Record says that "in these various times" George Washington "would be a better leader and a running" and that the Philadelphia Record would be a better leader and a running.

plain liquors, two slips, and twelve bottles of wine.

The opponents of prohibition can not get anywhere by searching the records to find out how much liquor was consumed by the great men of the past. That is not the question. The only question, if one remains, is whether the majority of the Americans of our time do or do not want a "dry" nation. Apparently they do, and it so that settles it. If they do not, the majority has really not been heard from, as is contended, then let this actual majority find a way to express itself at the polls. Meanwhile law is law and must be obeyed.

"Senator, these ladies have collected a lot of your speeches." "Um." "Don't you feel flattered?" "Umno. Do they want 'em to read or to make a bonfire with?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Do you read what the newspapers say about you?" "Every line," said Senator Sorghum. "A politician who doesn't read what the newspapers say about him stands no more chance than an actor who tries to make up without the aid of a looking glass."—Washington Star.

"I understand you come from a great game country," said the lady on the committee to welcome the grizzly warriors of the Western plains. "Indeed, yes, ma'am," was the cowboy's reply. "What is the biggest game you have in Wyoming?" "Poker, ma'am."—Yonkers Statesman.

New Mistress—"How about the afternoon off?" "Nora—Sure, muna, take wan—'m willin'."—Boston Transcript.

Miss Gabbie—"I thought I never could live to tell the tale." Miss Koon—"For you that must have been suffering indeed."—Boston Transcript.

A young society woman called one morning to see a bosom friend. "No, ma'am, Miss Alice is not in," the maid informed her. "She has gone to the class." "Why, what class?" inquired the caller in surprise.

"Well, ma'am, explained the maid, "you know Mr. Alice is getting married soon, so she's taking a course of lessons in domestic science."—Life.

"I understand," began Mr. Meekton, "that we are going to." "Don't say that," interrupted his wife. "Say that you believe that you, upine, if you choose. But affairs are just now in such a state of confusion that nobody with your limited facilities for observation and deduction is warranted in asserting that he understands anything."—Washington Star.

Do you think Miss Chatters is an entertaining teller?" "My, yes; she can entertain herself for hours at a time." Boston Transcript.

"Advice is cheap," slyly quoted the youth. "Huh!" growled the elder. "It's apparent you have never had anything to do with lawyers or physicians."—Life.

Patience—"The ideal. The 'Woman's Page' in this paper is nearly all about men." Patience—"Well, that's what we're most interested in, isn't it?"—Yonkers Statesman.

"Parley, dear," said young Mrs. Jenkins. "I can't tell you how it goes, my mind to talk with you about the League of Nations." "Easy, your honor." "Yes, I don't feel quite so inferior. I find I don't seem to follow its fine points much more closely than I do those of racing and baseball."—Washington Star.

LIQUOR SELLERS WON'T TAKE CHANCE

Although State Licenses Don't Expire July, Most of Them Will Be Redeemed in Absence of Federal License.

Although Kingston saloon keepers on July 1 will possess state licenses that have three months to run and which are not invalidated by the federal laws which clamp the lid on the demon rum on that day, they will not be able to do business, as some people have thought. They must also have a federal license and these are invalidated by the federal laws.

The point arose in considering whether, with no state law to prohibit the sale of liquor and with inadequate federal power of enforcement, it might not be possible for saloon keepers to sell after July 1 because of their possession of the state license. But it is not thought that any saloon keeper will take the chance of trying to do business without a federal license for this would make him liable to federal prosecution.

The state licenses, which have until October 1 to run, are also redeemable at the rate of $33.33 for each month they are not used. It is believed by the excise officials, however, that most saloon keepers will prefer to turn these in and get their rebate rather than take the chance of being prosecuted and losing their licenses to boot. There has been no state appropriation, however, for the redemption of these licenses, so that the saloon keeper will have to wait some time for his money.

THE SMOOTHEST SMOKING TOBACCO

"WHEN I go fishin' I want fish that bite, and tobacco that don't."

Velvet Joe

"Bite" in tobacco comes either from poor leaf or wrong "ripening."

We use for VELVET only the finest Kentucky Burley. But we don't stop there.

We put millions of pounds of this tobacco away every year, in wooden hogsheds, for Nature to patiently ripen and mellow.

There are quicker ways, but they leave some teeth in.

The VELVET way makes the friendlier kind of tobacco. You can always go to it for comfort without a "come-back."

Concentrate, and Win.

If you would reach the goal you have started out to attain, stop squandering your forces, and then, instead of wondering why you have failed, you will be surprised to find yourself on the road to success. For you will have accomplished more than you had ever dreamed was possible in the old days when you so dissipated your energies.

Work and Avoid Fretting.

Labor of any kind is healthful. You can hardly put more upon a human being than he can bear. But fretting so dissolves our energy that we have no force left for actual work. Fretting, even like the Biblical grain of mustard seed will, if not dissipated by destructive emotions, remove mountains, and bring you to the very door of success.

Gambling Spirit Strong.

Mazzini's passion for gambling was so strong, even when death was near, that he played cards to the very end, when he was so weak that they had to speed for him, and Charles II, the "Merry Monarch," spent his last Sunday on earth playing at basnet around a large table with his great courtiers and other dissolute persons and with a bank of at least £2,000 before him.

Birds Not Man's Enemies.
It is a fact that if it were not for the bird life we would starve to death. The great natural enemy of man is the pest. Every field in the home of thousands of insects, and agricultural reports will verify the fact that each year millions of dollars' worth of crops are destroyed by insects. And the birds are the natural enemies of the insect pest.

Weather Forecasts.
United States weather forecasts are based on the general study of types of weather combined with the study of the series of the daily weather maps for a few days immediately preceding the period for which predictions are to be made. No forecast of weather is made for a period of advance longer than is warranted by the quantity of atmospheric changes at that time. Many forecasts contain astronomical predictions, but they are not taken seriously.

Albany Avenue Baptist Services.
Services will be held this week at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church on Thursday and Friday evenings. Thursday evening is the prayer meeting, followed by the quarterly business meeting of the church. The Good Friday service will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. A. S. Cole, will preach on the topic, "The Cross of Peace," and the choir will sing. Special Easter services will be held on Sunday both morning and evening. The regular musical program will be doubled, and exceptionally fine selections will be rendered. In the morning the pastor will preach on the topic, "Risen With Christ," and the subject of the evening sermon will be, "What Heaven Will Be Like." The Easter exercises of the Bible school will be held at noon.

SOLDIER INSURANCE
AS DESIGNATED

Government Pays Money To Ones Named By Soldier Regardless Of Dependency—Compensation Another Thing.

Following is a statement by Secretary of the Treasury Class:

Considerable confusion and much misunderstanding seems to prevail among the relatives and beneficiaries of men in the military and naval service as to their rights under the War Risk Insurance Act. Many mothers and fathers named as beneficiaries of the government insurance applied for by their sons have gained the impression that they must prove dependency in order to receive payments of insurance. This is an entirely erroneous impression probably due to a confusion of the insurance and compensation provisions of the Act of Congress of October 6, 1917, and to a mistaken assumption that the terms "Insurance" and "Compensation" are used interchangeably, whereas they represent two entirely separate and distinct benefits.

Paid-In Monthly Installments.

Insurance is payable regardless of any dependency and a beneficiary designated in an application for government insurance if within the permitted class of spouse, child, grandchild, parent, brother, or sister is entitled to receive the insurance in monthly installments without proving any dependency upon the insured.

"Compensation," however, which is separate and apart from insurance and takes the place of the pension provided under the old pension system is payable only to a wife, child, dependent mother, or dependent father of a man who is disabled or dies as a result of injury suffered or disease contracted in the line of duty while employed in the active service. Compensation may be payable in addition to insurance, but a mother or father must prove actual dependency in order to receive monthly payments of compensation although they will receive the insurance in monthly installments if named as the beneficiary thereof whether they are dependent or not.

Dependency And Compensation. No dependency need be shown by any beneficiary in order to receive the government insurance, but a mother or father must prove actual dependency upon their deceased son for the necessities of life in order to receive the additional payment of compensation.

The Kitchen Cabinet

I read within a poet's book:
A word that suited the page:
"Stone walls do not a prison make,
Nor iron bars a cage!"

Yes, that is true, and something more:
You'll find, where'er you roam,
That marble floors and tiled walls
Can never make a home.

—Henry Van Dyke.

THE "BEST BERRY" DISHES.

The strawberry will soon be plentiful, yet while it is still a luxury we may use them in small amounts for a garnish or accessory.

Devonshire Pie.—Line a pie plate with rich pastry and bake it. Also bake a two-inch ring; this may be made by cutting around a large pie plate to make a large circle and then cutting around a smaller plate placed in the center of it. Use care to handle the ring without breaking it. Fill the pastry shell with Devonshire cream. This is prepared by scalding the milk the day before then skimming the cream and whipping it. Add a cupful or more of sweetened, very ripe berries and cover with the ring. Heap cream in the center and serve. A most attractive dish and one that is not hard to prepare.

Strawberry Baskets.—Beat the yolks of four eggs until thick, add one cup of sugar and beat two minutes, the sugar should be added gradually; add three tablespoonsful of water, put one and one-half tablespoonsful of cornstarch in a measuring cup and fill up with flour. Mix and sift with one and one-fourth tablespoonsful of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoon of salt, and add to the first mixture. Fold in the whites of the eggs-beaten stiff and add one teaspoonful of lemon extract. Put in buttered gem pans and bake in a moderate oven. Cool and scoop out the centers and fill with sweetened crushed berries mixed with whipped cream.

Bomb Mousse.—Line a mold with strawberry ice and fill with the following mixture: Beat one cupful of heavy cream until stiff and add three-fourths of a cupful of powdered sugar, one cupful of strawberry puree, one tablespoonful of orange juice and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Cover with the strawberry ice and, when set, adjust the cover and pack in ice and salt using equal parts. Let stand two hours.

Novel Dance. The word "ball" as applied to a dancing party, came to be used in the first instance from an ancient "ball play" given in church by the dean and choir boys of Naples during the Feast of Weeks at Easter. At subsequent dancing parties in Naples the dancers dressed as ball at one another to the sound of their own singing. They whirled about in measured time, and the sport consisted in keeping hands on time to catch the ball.

THE FURNACE.

"Well," said the furnace, "I wouldn't be an ice box for anything in the world."

"I don't suppose you could be," said the ice box.

"What don't you suppose I could be?" asked the furnace.

"I don't suppose you could be an ice box."

"That is true. I couldn't be," said the furnace.

Now the furnace and the ice box were both in a big cellar. The ice box was some distance away from the furnace but still they were in the same cellar. The ice box was off, near a door, which was by some steps. These steps led up to the kitchen of the house and everyone came down to the ice box to get out the food which was going to be used and the milk and all such things which belong in an ice box.

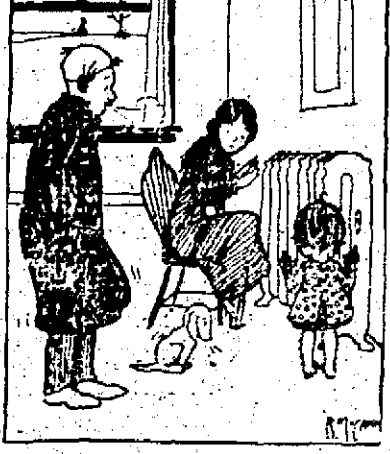

Of course, half of the year the furnace wasn't doing anything, and in the winter time the ice box did not have nearly so much ice given to it.

"I feel sorry for you," said the furnace. "Here you are so cold and you haven't even enough warmth about you to make the ice melt quickly as it does in the summer time."

"You have to be so cold always, even in the winter you have to be cold. That is the saddest of all. In the summer I'm not so hot myself but as soon as a cold day comes I am ready to be warm."

"Poor old ice box, you have my sympathy. That is to say, I feel sorry for you, terribly sorry, poor old ice box."

"Now look here, furnace," said the ice box. "Don't feel so sorry for me that you can't tell the truth. I am not old. I am only two years old. You are really far older."

"I agree, and I admit that what you say is true," said the furnace. "And really anyone could tell that I was older, for I am so much wiser."

"I wouldn't be such a silly, glibly young thing as to be cold. I would know enough to have plenty of coal on my fire so as to keep warm."

"Ah, furnace, you mustn't boast too much," said the ice box. "I've heard the family having great trouble with you. There are days, sometimes the cold, cold ones, too, when you won't burn. I've even known you to go out sometimes."

"And oh, how you have made the family shiver. You have behaved like a naughty, naughty person. You wouldn't go when you were supposed to go. You have made them fuss over you and fuss over you."

"And why shouldn't they fuss over me?" asked the furnace. "I'm the furnace. I am the great and warm and powerful furnace. I keep the whole house warm. I keep all the people in it warm."

"But you don't keep them warm when you go out and when you go slowly and when you won't burn nicely," said the ice box.

"That is to show that I won't let anyone think I'm so unimportant that I don't have to be noticed and fussed over."

"It shows that sometimes you are very mean, furnace. Important and great and wise and clever creatures don't have to be fussed over. They're above it."

"Look here, young ice box," said the furnace. "I don't want any rules from you. You are a fine thing to talk about a creature keeping warm. What warmth do you ever give to any one? I'd like to know?"

"You're right, furnace. I don't give any warmth. But I am not supposed to, and you are. I am supposed to keep the ice and to make folks cool in the hot summer and make the food keep nice and fresh and cool. I do my work, I do. And you should do yours, you should."

"I do it all right, never fear," said the furnace, though it knew that many a time it had behaved pretty badly. But now it was mad and it went for all it was worth and the ice box chuckled and said to itself, "The poor people have been saying how cold they were and how badly the furnace was behaving. Now the furnace is mad and will behave by burning and raging for all it is worth."

And the furnace burned angrily and furiously and how nice and warm the people kept on that cold winter's day!

The Storms.

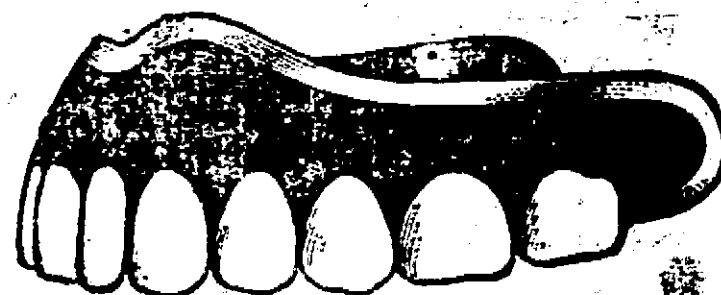

A storm held sway—
Winds, rain and sleet!
All nature bent, as tempests beat,
The calm came then.
Sweet, restful, clear
Giving the bruised world, heart, new cheer.

So to a human heart came storm,
Chilling its God sent love so warm
Bruising it, bending it, rending deep!
Raising old evils from their sleep!
But here, too, came the after calm.
Soothing, caressing as fragrant balm.

The world storm cleansed a private air.
Gave a brightened color to flowers fair.
The heart storm tore from their tense held place
Habit of evil, delirium, distrance.
Filled the rugged tears with joy,
that grew
Till it came to the soul a new light true.

The teeth absolutely cannot be discerned from natural teeth. These teeth because of the direct bite have three times the biting strength of ordinary plates. Are you now wearing artificial teeth? If so, we strongly advise you to call and investigate this new plate.

EFFORT TO SETTLE SHIPYARD STRIKE

Will Be Made Soon By Committee of Workers—200 Men to Leave Town Monday Unless Agreement Is Reached.

A lengthy discussion of the prevailing conditions on the shipyards in regard to the strike occupied the sole attention of a large gathering at a meeting of the Shipwrights and Carpenters Local held last night in Measter's Hall on Broadway. Aside from the discussion 36 new members were accepted into the local.

As a final outcome, to try and settle the strike, a committee was appointed from the employees of the Island Dock yards, Hiltbrand's and Sawyer yards to work in conjunction with the president of the local, William B. Martin, in arranging a settlement with the officials some time this week. When this committee meets the management it is hoped that some definite agreement will be reached to conclude the strike.

It was determined at last night's meeting that if the strike is not settled this week about two hundred men will leave town to accept jobs that have been offered them by other yards down the river. These men are all Kingstonians and their families reside in this city and they claim that they do not like the idea of leaving town but they must have work.

MUNICH FIGHTING STILL CONTINUES

By Telegram to The Freeman. Copenhagen, April 16.—Government troops in Munich are bombarding the railway station in which a number of armed Spartacists barricaded themselves, said a despatch today. A reign of anarchy prevails in Munich and there is much looting. Many armed citizens have been killed by the Spartacists. Street fighting was still in progress at last reports. A number of prominent citizens at Magdeburg have been seized as hostages because of the appearance of government troops.

While preparing for the opening for the local place of amusement, Mr. Becker made many friends in this city and his return is welcomed by all as it assures them better amusement.

BIKE DEALERS RACES ASSURED

Mayor Canfield has granted his permission to the bicycle dealers of the Kingston Bicycle Dealers' Association to hold races on Pine Grove avenue and a parade on Broadway during the week of May 3, when bicycle week will be observed throughout the country. This report was met enthusiastically by the dealers at the meeting of the association held last night in the shop of C. E. Cressler on Broadway, opposite the armory.

The question of a standard price list for supplies and repairs that was discussed at the last meeting has not yet been adopted but at next week's meeting it is expected that the association will adopt a standard scale to be observed by all dealer members of the association.

A bicycle parade has not been held in this city for a number of years and no little interest is being created by the proposed project. The races will not doubt prove the most interesting to local riders and handsome prizes are to be awarded the winners of these races. The program will include a list of races that will give every Kingston rider a chance to compete for the prizes.

Final arrangements will be made at the meeting next Tuesday evening, April 22, in Cressler's shop, unless the permission of the Chamber of Commerce to use their rooms for the meeting is accepted.

MARINE WORKERS

16,000 New York Harbor Men Go Out Tomorrow Morning Unless Final Negotiations Are Successful.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, April 16.—Regional Director A. H. Smith, of the railroad administration, today conferred with representatives of 16,000 marine workers in a final effort to avert a strike that threatens an almost complete tie-up of New York harbor traffic. The workers' representatives were pessimistic as to the outcome of the conference. Unless an agreement is reached, the men will go out at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. In the two previous strikes, the workers exempted incoming troop transports, coal and food carries and hospital ships bringing in wounded soldiers. They hope to tie up Trans-Atlantic and coastwise traffic by enlisting the support of the deep sea unions.

BITTER FEELING IN ADJOURNMENT FIGHT

In Senate at Albany—Majority Seeks to Force Adjournment Resolution—In Hot Debate With Opponents.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, April 16.—The most bitter feeling began to crop out in the senate today, when opposing forces renewed their fight over adjournment, which resulted yesterday in a temporary Democratic victory after a twenty hour filibuster.

The issue was forced by Majority Leader Walters, who moved adoption of the resolution, which fixes adjournment Saturday. Democrats, aided by the four Republican insurgents, opposed the move until the assembly had taken final action on health insurance, minimum wage, eight hour and water power legislation. Senator Walters said the assembly caucus last night had virtually acted upon the bills, when the Republicans agreed to keep them in rules committee.

Senate No Whip Over Others. "I am unwilling to believe," he said, "that the senate was created as a whip over a co-ordinate body so far as the senate is concerned, it can finish its business by Saturday noon. Consideration of the adjournment resolution is sought to be postponed not because the senate can't complete its work, but that we must remain here to coerce the assembly."

Senator Ross Graves of Erie, one of the insurgents, demanded to know whether the report was true that the assembly Republicans had agreed to kill all bills bearing the names of the four insurgents.

"If there is a boycott on the other side, I am going to retaliate here," he threatened. Senator Walters declared he had never before seen such spirit of retaliation in the senate. "I have," broke in Senator Foley, Democratic leader. "Look at our investigation committee probing into the $200,000 chaf fund. It is hard to tell whether the persons who furnished the information to it are on trial or are members of this body with equal standing with us."

"I challenge the statement that there has been a spirit of retaliation here," retorted Walters.

DECISION FAVORS MRS. MABEN.

International Textbook Company Must Fulfill Stock Agreement.

Judge Nichols has handed down a decision in favor of Mrs. Jane McKinley Maben in her action against the International Textbook Company. In 1916 Mrs. Maben purchased sixteen shares of stock from the Textbook Company for $2,000 upon the agreement that the company would re-purchase it after one year for the same price if she desired to sell it back. A few months later the company, which operates the International Correspondence School, became involved in financial difficulties, and after the expiration of the year repudiated its agreement and refused to re-purchase the stock. Mrs. Maben brought an action to compel the company to comply with its agreement. The company refused to accept service of the summons because it is a Pennsylvania corporation and claimed it had no regular office or agent within this state. This matter came up before Judge Hasbrouck, who decided in favor of Mrs. Maben. The company appealed from this decision and it was affirmed by the appellate division, which held the service was good. The case then came on for trial before Judge Nichols, who has decided that the company must comply with its agreement. Brininger & Canfield represent Mrs. Maben and A. C. Connelly and Judge Clearwater appeared for the Textbook Company.
